

University of Oklahoma Libraries
Western History Collections

Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Howell Collection

Howell, O. E. (1877–1959). Papers, 1907–1946. 4 items.

Physician. A copy of a speech (1946) by Howell, in which he recounts his experiences as a country physician in Oktaha, Oklahoma (1904–1929). Also included are copies of the Saturday Evening Post (1907), the Illustrated London News (1915), and a flyer advertising the movie Ashes of Vengeance, starring Norma Talmage.

Item:

1. Saturday Evening Post issue of November 16, 1907, containing an article on the state constitution of Oklahoma.
2. Issues of The Illustrated London News containing several articles about battles fought in World War I (May 22, 1915).
3. Theatre bill advertising the movie Ashes of Vengeance starring Norma Talmadge, and Just Passin' Thru starring Will Rogers (c. 1923).
4. "Then and Now", an address given by Dr. O.E. Howell at the Annual Dinner of the Cleveland County Medical Society and Ladies' Auxiliary, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. D.W. Griffin (April 26, 1946).
5. Folder (which originally contained the speech) containing articles about the Cleveland County Medical Society's Annual Dinners.