

University of Oklahoma Libraries
Western History Collections

Louis Alvin Turley Collection

Turley, Louis Alvin. Manuscript, 1947. 1 item.

Professor. An unpublished manuscript (1947) by Turley, entitled "Nephron: A Critical Study of the Data from the Structure, Pathology, and Experimentation on the Function of the Several Parts of the Kidney."

Folder:

1. "The Effect of Religion on the History of Medicine" by L.A. Turley. Read before The Layman's League, Oklahoma City, January, 1931.
2. Typescript, "History of the Medical School: Memoirs of Dr. L.A. Turley" n.d.
3. "Memoirs of Dr. L.A. Turley, concerning the History of the Growth and Development of the School of Medicine of the State of Oklahoma", n.d.
4. Course materials for "Medicine 30" on the history of medicine, taught by Turley, circa 1928.
5. Unpublished manuscript by Louis A. Turley, "The Nephron: A Critical Study and Correlation of the Data from the Structure, Pathology, and Experimentation on the Function of the Several Parts of the Unit of Function of the Kidney."

Clinical Excerpts, Volume 21, Number 2, 1947. The cardiac issue.