

University of Oklahoma Libraries
Western History Collections

Marsha Weisiger Collection

Weisiger, Marsha. Papers, 1971-1974. .15 foot.

History professor. Papers on the women's liberation movement in Oklahoma collected by University of Oregon history professor Marsha Weisiger while living in Oklahoma. The materials reflect the activities of supporters of the Equal Rights Amendment in Oklahoma, along with research on women's equality issues in the state. Also included are the constitution and bylaws of the Oklahoma Women's Political Caucus, and printed newsletters from women's liberation movement organizations.

Box 1

Folder:

1. "Constitution of O.U. Chapter of Women's Liberation."

Testimony of Cleta Deatherage and Anita R. May before the Oklahoma State Legislature's Subcommittee on the Equal Rights Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, October 22-23, 1972.

"Report on Faculty Rank and Distribution in Twenty-One Colleges and Universities in Oklahoma." Prepared by Dorothy Truex, University of Oklahoma, December 1972.

O.S.U. staff employee policies and statistics on women's equality, circa 1972.

"Women in Academia," notes, including information on the O.S.U. affirmative action plan, circa 1971.

Testimony of Judith F. Kovisars before the Legislative Steering Committee of the Oklahoma State Legislature, n.d.

Program for the Assembly for Equal Rights, Oklahoma City University, January 5-6, 1973.

2. Compiled research and information on the Equal Rights Amendment relative to laws, employment, taxes, retirement, insurance, and other matters, circa 1972.
3. Constitution and bylaws of the Oklahoma Women's Political Caucus, with printed brochure; and meeting agenda for October 7, 1973.

Information sheet on Donna Meyer, candidate for Chairwoman of the Oklahoma Women's Political Caucus, circa 1973.

Statement of Purpose for the Oklahoma Women's Political Caucus Central Oklahoma Division.

4. The Last Word, March 5, 1971. Two copies.
FAA Special Intercom for Women's Equality Day, August 24, 1973.
State of Oklahoma Division of NWPC Newsletter, April 8, 1974.